

AiA Art News-service

Virtual reality just got (more) interesting

Earlier this year Google unveiled a revolutionary new app, with the potential to transform creative process as we know it.

The Tilt Brush -- once loaded into a HTC Vive headset -- is a virtual reality painting application enabling users to sketch and create in an immersive studio space, selecting from a palette of colors, brush-types, and impossible materials such as ice and fire.

Read: New technology will revolutionize art

At this year's Design Miami fair, one of the most significant design gatherings on the international calendar, CNN Style invited a number of visionary talents from the fields of design, fashion, art and architecture to let their imaginations run wild with this ground-breaking technology.

While some opted to start with a blank canvas other designers wanted to experiment with the technology's more practical functions.

Swiss designer Yves Béhar uploaded a 3D render of his innovative new baby cradle "Snoo". He described the experience: "I see the piece that I couldn't see in full scale because it doesn't exist yet . . . and I can work on it and see if I want to make it in a different material or just do other things with it."

Photos: The best of Design Miami 2016

FENDI – The Happy Room, by Cristina Celestino was a collaboration between the young designer and Italian fashion house Fendi.

1 of 12

Photos: The best of Design Miami 2016

Virgil Abloh – Virgil Abloh of fashion label Off-White presented an abstract impression of furniture design.

2 of 12

JAMES HARRIS

Photos: The best of Design Miami 2016

Tabanlıoğlu Architects – The Flamingo Lounge by Tabanlıoğlu Architects.

3 of 12

JAMES HARRIS

Photos: The best of Design Miami 2016

Jason Jacques Gallery – Featuring work by Kim Simonsson (pictured above), Beate Kuhn, Gareth Mason, Rick Owens, Eric Serritella and Albi Serfaty.

4 of 12

Photos: The best of Design Miami 2016

Salon 94 – Featuring works by Gaetano Pesce.

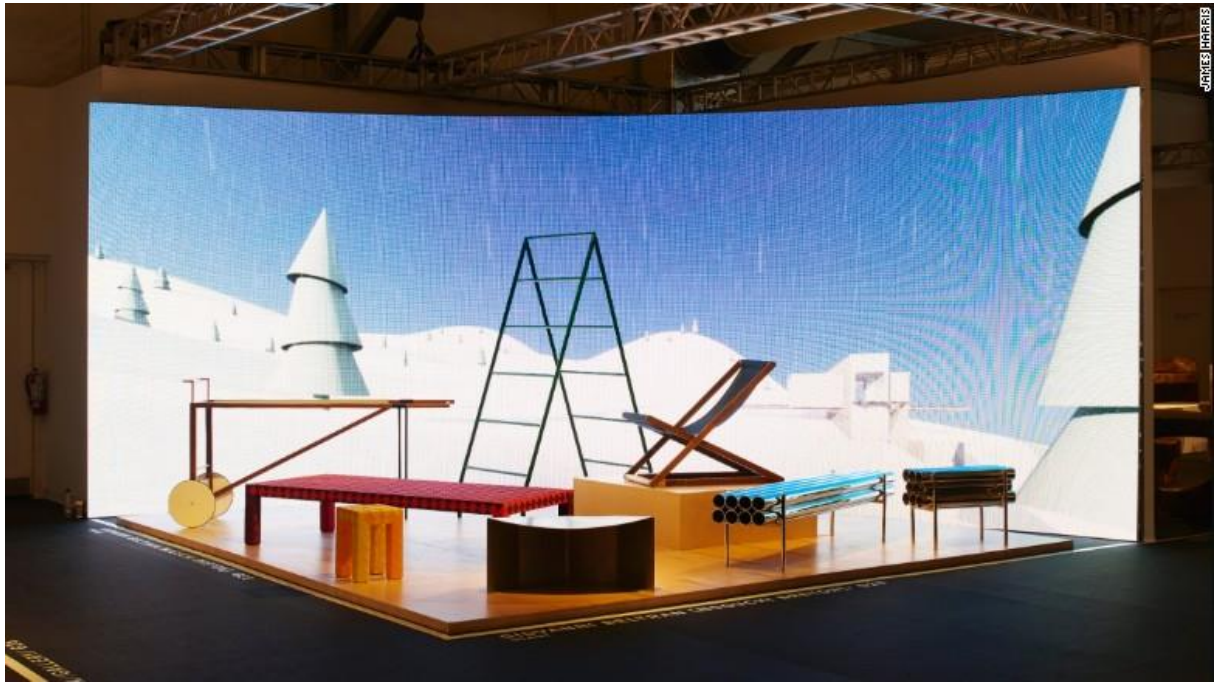

5 of 12

Photos: The best of Design Miami 2016

Atelier Biagetti – Patricia Findlay presents Atelier Biagetti's "No Sex in Miami", featuring work by designers Alberto Biagetti and Laura Baldassari.

6 of 12

Photos: The best of Design Miami 2016

Giovani Beltran – 'Under the Endless Sky' by Jonathan Gonzalez, Jonathan Nesci, Lex Pott and Deon Rubi.

7 of 12

Photos: The best of Design Miami 2016

Galerie Patrick Seguin – Featuring work by Le Corbusier, Pierre Jeanneret, Charlotte Perriand, Jean Prouvé and Jean Royère.

8 of 12

Photos: The best of Design Miami 2016

Friedman Benda – Featuring work by Andrea Branzi, Calico Wallpaper, Wendell Castle, Byung Hoon Choi, Paul Cocksedge, Misha Kahn, Chris Schanck, Adam Silverman, Faye Toogood and Marcel Wanders.

9 of 12

Photos: The best of Design Miami 2016

R & Company – Featuring work by Rogan Gregory, The Haas Brothers, Sergio Rodrigues, Joaquim Tenreiro, David Wiseman, Thaddeus Wolfe, Jose Zanine and Jeff Zimmerman.

10 of 12

Photos: The best of Design Miami 2016

Carpenters Workshop Gallery – Featuring work by Maarten Baas, Ingrid Donat, Vincent Dubourg, Frederik Molenschot, Rick Owens, Studio Drift and Studio Job.

11 of 12

Photos: The best of Design Miami 2016

SHoP Architects – 'Flotsam & Jetsam' by SHoP Architects.

12 of 12